IT WILL BE BETTER

Sunday North American Announces it Will Maintain High Standard of First Issue

All records, both as to quality of matter and number of sales, were broken by the Sunday North American last Sunday, when its first issue was offered to the public. In each of scores of Pennsylvania towns several hundred more copies might have been sold if the supply had been equal to the demand. There was a great curiosity to see what the first number would be, and newsdealers everywhere report "clean sales."

Curiosity is quite as strong in regard to the next Sunday North American. The question is this—Will it maintain the pace and keep the high standard set in its first issue? The assurance is given out that next Sunday's paper will be even better than the initial number.

The sheet music supplement, which is printed on heavy paper and is in every way equal to the music purchased in stores, will be "Ida from Idaho," by John H. Flynn, the author of that great success, "Annie Moore." This new song is just as catchy as the one which the people of the United States are now singing and whistling.

In the Women's Supplement, in beautiful colors, are illustrated pages of new fall jackets and some of the latest mourning costumes; the very latest silk waists, which will interest those who make their own clothes; Marion Harland has some good new cooking recipes, and discourses on household topics, including the care of children; Mrs. Henry Symes gives many more recipes for beauty, and tells how to acquire health by new breathing exercises; McDougall contributes wonderful stories for children, besides which there is a puzzle picture and some interesting illustrations.

In the comic supplement there is an excruciatingly funny series by Walt McDougall, called "How Bims Lost the Election." There are other comic sketches in colors to excite hilarity, and two pages of short humorous prose written by the men who have made "Puck" "Life" and "Judge" famous.

The cover of the twelve-page magazine shows Pope Leo and his "Cabinet." It is a wonderfully striking color page and will attract national attention. There are ten more pages of attractively illustrated and genuinely interesting news feature.

WIERD SHADOWS ON THE WHITE HOUSE

Superstitutious persons recall since death of President McKinley the appearance of the shadows on the large pillars of the White House portico early last winter. These shadows had been noticed for three or four years, but it was not until last December that they attracted general attention. Then it required no stretch of the imagination to recognize a human forearm and hand, with bent finger upheld in the attitude of warning, outlined near the top of one of the columns. This appeared shortly after noon each day for nearly a week, lasting about an hour.

After that, when the position of the sun changed somewhat, the shadow disappeared from the pillar, only to reappear in a nondescript form later in the day on the column at the northwest corner of the portico. It then gradually assumed more definite form, and finally represented the face and shoulders of President McKinley in profile, the resemblance being most striking. The silhouette appeared foor or five days in succession, but lasted only a few minutes at a time, when it gradually and by most imperceptible degrees into an easily recognized outline of the features of the late Queen Victoria.

It is a fact, testified to by all the messengers and police officers at White House and by many visitors to the mansion, that the death of President McKinley's mother was preceded for several days by a shadow picture on the porch pillars of the bent form of an old woman standing near a spinning wheel.

THE HOME GOLD CURE

An Ingenious Treatment by which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves

No Noxious Doses. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS!! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!! This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address EDWIN B. GILES & COMPANY, 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

All correspondence stricly confidentia'.

Sold Uniform Shirts

Private Lea, of Fort duPont, is in the guard house at that place and will be taken before the authorities at Washington within a few days to answer to a serious charge. It is alleged that Lea had sold the regulation blue suits, property of the Government, and made use of the money. He is said to have made arrangements with several persons to sell shirts to them at $1 each. This is but one-third of the value of the article. From recent reports of the amount of sales about to be made it would appear that the entire storehouse for the fort would be depleted of the supply of warm wearing material long before the winter season is here.

THE CRIME OF ANARCHY

Justice for the assassin Czolgosz should be stern and sure, and for the rest as little sensational as possible. But are there no means, it will be asked, for making prevention of the crime of Anarchy more certain? This was the question which was discussed by the anti-Anarchist Conference convoked by the Italian Government in 1898. The deliberations of the conference were under two heads, administrative and legislative. In the administrative sphere, it was understood that the conference came to some positive conclusions. How far they have been carried out has never been stated, for it is a matter in which the utmost secrecy is essential. Anarchism, however, is an international crime; and the first necessity for dealing with it is an international police bureau as a means of direct and speedy communication between the police of all countries on this subject.

Many people talk, and governments sometimes act; as if the one thing needful were that each country should expel as many suspected Anarchists as possible. But if one considers the matter, it is not easy to see the advantage of such a proceeding. In the absence of Bismarck's penal island to serve as a dumping-ground Anarchists expelled from one country go to another; and no country is much the better for the exchange. What is really wanted is the most effective system of home control, on uniform and pre-arranged principles, and with full and immediate communication between the police of all the countries.

Even so, the difficulties of the police in dealing with the Anarchists will always be great. First, because a desperate man, who does not shrink from sacrificing his own life, is hard to control, though the number of such men is fortunately small. Secondly, because the Anarchists, instead of having a general organization, are divided into small and fluctuating groups. The administrative task of watching and preventing criminal Anarchism will always be difficult owing to the looseness of its organization and the insignificance, and probably the individual initiative, of its units.

These difficulties in administration naturally lead governments to turn to possible assistance in fresh legislation by international agreement. In this sphere the results of the conference of 1868 were negative; the views of different governments were divergent, and the British delegates did not take any part in the final deliberations. Such divergence is inherent, we fear, in the nature of the case. Anarchism shades off through various and gradual transitions from the innocent philosophy of Tolstoian individualism and non-resistance to the criminal propaganda which seeks universal happiness through wholesale murder.

When this fact is remembered, it will at once be seen that common agreement between States with regard to extradition or press laws, or laws of public meeting or the arrest of suspects, becomes well-nigh impossible in relation to this subject. It is not likely that even the Anarchist terror will induce this country, for instance, or the United States, to accept the Russian code, let us say, with regard to the definition or treatment of political offenses. In saying this, however, we may add that there is no disposition whatever in this country to regard criminal Anarchism as a "political offense," unnecessary of prevention or undeserving of rigorous punishment. It is a crime under our law to prepare, persuade, or conspire for, the murder of any person; and, as was pointed out at the time of the conference in Rome, the criminal nature of such preparation, persuasion, or conspiracy, is in no way attenuated or modified because the persons guilty of it profess theories which they seek to dignify by some "ism" or other.

It has often been said by foreign critics in way of reproach that England allows Anarchists to devise plots and manufacture weapons against exalted persons in other countries with out taking proper precautions. The same thing has been said of the United States. The charge is as unjustified, we may hope, in the latter case as we know it to be in our own. Not much is heard of the vigilance of Scotland Yard, but it is perhaps not the less effective on that account. Now and then arrests are made, and sometimes, when conspiracies have gone far enough, they are nipped in the bud by prosecution. Johann Most, who had published an article glorifying in the assassination of the Czar, was arrested and sentenced on a charge of inciting to murder. In 1891 several men were arrested in Walsall for making and possessing bombs, and those who were found guilty were severely punished.

The whole Anarchist colony in this country is closely and unceasingly watched. This, and the strict interpretation of the law as defined above, are the only ways in which any direct and repressive warfare against Anarchism can be carried on. By dealing thus vigilantly with all dangerous Anarchists within its borders, each State makes a contribution to the international pursuit of a common enemy. The ways and means by which such contribution can be rendered most effective may well form the subject from time to time of international inquiry.—London Chronical.

New Time Card System

In all the departments of the P., W. and B. Railroad a new time card system went into effect Tuesday. The time of the men on the old system was kept by the foreman on blank slips of paper, and from these slips the time was tranferred to small books and thence to ledgers. Under the new system, printed cards giving the names of the workmen with columns for the number of hours employed, are used, and the time is transferred direct to the ledgers from the cards, saving much time.

Here's a Terrible Tale

Apple jack and hard cider will be scarce in lower Delaware this year and the inhabitants who must have an occasional spirituous draught must go for peach brandy. Deputy Collector Daniel Burton of the United States revenue service has just completed a tour of the lower part of the State, bonding the fruit distillers, and he reports that while all that intend to run this season are now in full operation, only about one-third of the distillers are at work, many of the establishments being entirely idle. This is all due to the total failure of the apple crop.

Delaware as Flower Grower

The Census Bureau has announced its statistics of commercial floriculture in sixteen States, showing an aggregate value of $11,000,000 of flowers and foliage plants raised in 1899, with 3,895 establishments and $35,000,000 as the value of the lands and buildings. The value of flowers and plants raised in Delaware was $53,729. Twenty-one establishments in the State are valued at $171,675.

Lived Over a Century

William Henry Anderson, Havre de Grace, is dead at the age of 104 years. In his early life he made numerous voyages across the ocean, visiting Japan, China and the Mediterranean sea. He accompanied Commodore Perry to Japan in 1823. He remembered the visit of the British at Havre de Grace in 1814 well and was an exceedingly interesting talker.

WHIPPED AT NEW CASTLE

Not in recent years in the history of whippings in this county has the sheriff wielded the cat with such an effect as was witnessed at New Castle Saturday. Five culprits, four of whom were white and one colored, tasted the cat, which was plied without regard to personality, and the result was that the four white men received the same weight of the cat as did their colored companion. The first man to face the post was Edward McLaughlin. He received 15 lashes well laid on. The marks showed on his back and he suffered as the 7th, 11th and 13th lashes of the cat purred on his bared palt. Charles Robinson received 10 lashes and yelled as the fifth and eight swish of the whip struck him. Michael Tully twisted and squirmed at the fourth, fifth and ninth fall of the cat touched his back. James Demby, colored, the only negro in the party, whistled as the cat fell on his jet black skin. The lashes were well laid on. Edward Leary did not sustain much injury.

SMYRNA HAS MORNING FIRE

Early Sunday morning fire broke out in Jonas Levy's clothing store at Smyrna. It is supposed that burglars fired the place. On the rear end of the building is an outside stairway leading to the second floor. Some one forced the upstairs window and to get into the building was but the work of a moment. The trap door leading to the store below was nailed down, but the door was forced with a cold chisel which was found in one corner of the room. A rope had been lowered to the floor below, presumably to haul up the plunder. At the upstairs window was found a vest with muddy foot prints on it. The fire started in a small box filled with old bits of cloth and soon ignited one of the covers over the counter. Fortunately, there was no draught and the fireman extinguished the flames without any trouble before a great deal of damage was done.

LAWS OF DELAWARE

Volume XXII, part I, Laws of Delaware, is out, and attorneys are glad to have in convenient form the acts of the Legislature to 1901. This volume is from the press of the Milford Chronicle and comprises 525 pages, besides an index of 49 pages.

This volume contains some important laws, such as the amendments to the General Corporation acts, the act to establish bulkhead, wharf and pier lines in the Delaware River in front of Wilmington, new measures as to revenue, appropriation acts, the law changing the New Castle County Levy Court from five to seven members, new election laws, including that which provides for voters' assistants, revised insurance measures, legislation concerning schools, the barber law and numerous acts applying to cities and towns throughout the State.

The Peach Market

The Delaware peach is again one of the things of the past, excepting where some are in cold storage. Many of the local growth of peaches will be kept until the cold frosts of winter mark the Christmas tide. Then they will command prices that are at least five times their value of to-day. A few Maryland peaches, known under the cognomen of mountain peaches are finding their way into the market. While this grade of peach is fine in appearance there is a difference in the taste from the well-known Delaware varities. Of this fruit but few are of the freestone variety. The Maryland mountain peach is fine when spiced, and people who know the value of fruit of this kind secure it for the purpose of putting it up with the kernel and stone, which results in a flavor similar to that of the Delaware fruit.

Lucky Mr. Fahey

In Superior Court Monday the case of Patrick Fahey, who was fined $25 in City Court last April on the charge of assault and battery on James C. Rutan, was heard on a writ of certiorari. Charles W. Smith, for Mr. Fahey, had filed exceptions on the ground that the record did not show that Mr. Fahey had had a trial in the City Court. City Solicitor David J. Reinhardt, representing the city, examined the certificate and admitted that the exception was well founded. The clerk of the court, Harry P. Joslyn, had duly stated in the certificate that Fahey was arrested and pleaded not guilty, and was adjudged guilty, but had failed to state that he had been tried. The court sustained the exceptions and Mr. Fahey will not have to pay the fine.

Will Build New Bridge

This week bridge-builders of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad, will begin work on a new bridge between Elkton and Newark, to replace the one washed away several weeks ago. Large abutments of solid granite will be built on either side of the creek and will be so firmly fixed that a washout will be impossible. The iron for the bridge has arrived. The work will not interfere with the traffic over the road.

A WORTHY SUCCESSOR

"Something New Under the Sun."

All Doctors have tried to cure CATARRH by the use of powders, acid gases, inhalers and drugs in paste form. Their powders dry up the mucuous membranes causing them to crack open and bleed. The powerful acids used in the inhalers have entirely eaten away the same membranes that their makers have aimed to cure, while pastes and ointments cannot reach the disease. An old and experienced practitioner who has for many years made a close study and specialty of the treatment of CATARRH, has at last perfected a Treatment which when faithfully used, not only relieves at once, but permanently cures CATARRH, by removing the cause, stopping the discharges, and curing all inflamation. It is the only remady known to science that actually reaches the afflicted parts. This wonderful remedy is known as "SNUFFLES the GUARANTEED CATARRH CURE" and is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, each package containing internal and external medicine sufficient for a full month's treatment and everything necessary to its perfect use.

"SNUFFLES" is the only perfect CATARRH CURE ever made and is now recognized as the only safe and positive cure for that annoying and disgusting disease. It cures all inflamation quickly and permanently and is also wonderfully quick to relieve HAY FEVFR or COLD in the HEAD.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

It will be the earnest effort of William McKinley's successor to keep the tie of prosperity at the flood.

***

The cruiser Cleveland has entered her new element at Bath, Maine, and some of the best fighting ships ever built will soon be in a condition to join the American navy. The navy has well earned its right to expand.

***

The War Department's fifty per cent reduction in the tariff on certain classes of agricultural implements entering Cuba will convince the islanders that America is laboring to restore the island's industries to their natural state of prosperity.

***

It seems to many that some of the police of the greater city of New York should be served with warrants instead of being engaged in serving them.

***

In true Democratic fashion, President Roosevelt has sent his children to the Washington public schools. He simply desires that they become good and patriotic Americans, and has warned them against useless frills of fashion.

***

One of the best proofs that affairs in China have quieted down to the safety point is the announcement that, within a few days, thirteen American missionaries will sail from Seattle to resume their labors in the Celestial Empire.

***

President Roosevelt's callers nowadays are from all parts of the country and they bring good wishes and promises of hearty support. The broadness of his policy so far as outlines has aroused general satisfaction. Mr. Roosevelt's excellent beginning has inspired confidence of conspicuous Republicans, and even those of opposing political faiths have not been backward in extending compliments.

***

The effort of the Democratic Constitutional Convention in Virginia to frame provisions for the disfranchisement of the colored voter is being carried to such an extreme that there is likely to be a revulsion of feeling calculated to defeat the object in view. Senator Daniel's proposal to make every voter qualify by either being able to read any section of the Constitution or give a lucid explanation of any section that shall be read to him, leaving the decision as to fitness to the registrar, is likely to disfranchise every voter in the State who is not a Democrat. The members of the Virginia convention may be surprised with the verdict at the ballet-box this fall. Partisanship carried beyond certain limits disgusts even men who are strong party adherents, and the impending political contest will afford an opportunity for the people to indirectly express themselves on the suffrage question which the Democrats are maltreating. It may cost the party several prominent candidates.

***

Despite the many premature rumors that Mr. Roosevelt would soon find himself minus the cabinet officers of the late President, the capable men who did so well for Mr. McKinley are sticking to their posts; and they are thus paying a tribute to the memory of the martyred Ohioan which many have overlooked.

***

Once more Greater New York is monopolizing a large section of the center of the political stage. The new reform campaign has excited interest from ocean to ocean. Mr. Croker has had sufficient fear for the opposition to leave his happy home in England and return to don his armor. It is understood that he has ordered an especially long lance for the encounter and that he will ride into the thick of the knights with great display. Whoever Tammany may designate as a sacrifice, the fact remains that Richard Croker is the logical candidate when the issues are analyzed.

***

Russia has kindly offered to accept China's best fighting vessels in part payment of the indemnity due as a result as the recent Boxer outrages in the Orient. It will be noticed that the Czar does not permit his peace conference enterprises to interfere with his preparations for warfare.

***

Washington will very soon begin brushing up for the reception of the members of Congress.

***

President McKinley's last will and testament, just filed, once more proved the great affection he had for the lovable woman with whom the nations of the world to-day drop tears of sorrow by his tomb.

***

There is a possibility of a serious friction between Great Britian and Turkey over the attempt of the latter to land troops at Koweyt. Considering the fact that relations between France and the Porte have become strained to the breaking point, it would seem that Abdul Hamid had cause for genuine uneasiness if not actual fright.

***

The opera bouffe warfare in Central America continues to resemble a vaudeville show. We are informed that, his exchequer having become sadly depleted, Castro, President of Venezuela, is on the point of attacking Colombia, presumably for the purpose of securing revenues by hook or crook. It is rare indeed that lack of money is amplified into a casus belli, but "anything goes" with some of our neighbors to the south. Castro, however, should be careful when he orders the advance of his warriors that Uncle Sam's toes are not nearby, for he might inadvertently tread on them.

***

The last obstacle to the Pan-American Congress in the City of Mexico has been withdrawn. The nations of the new world will, through their delegates, assemble there for a conference that will probably mean the closer drawing of common ties and the increase of international progress on this side of the water. It may lead to a biennial session of national representatives that will in the course of time bring about a powerful American Federation.

DELAWARE DAY OCTOBER 10TH

Delaware Day will be observed at the Pan-American Exposition on Thursday, October 10th, and it is believed that Delaware officials will begin at once to prepare for the day.

When the news of the death of President McKinley reached here, Governor Hunn and his staff, who had been arranging a trip to the Exposition, at once cancelled the engagement. At present, however, pressure is being brought to bear to have a fitting celebration for Delaware Day, and it is believed that distinguished Delawareans will leave here the first week of October.

Director-General Buchanan, of the Exposition, in notifying the Delawareans of the selection of October 10th, said that the late President particularly requested that the fatal accident to him might not interfere with the progress of the Exposition in any way.

When the Governor and his staff reach Buffalo, they will occupy a large 20 room residence which has been engaged for their accommodations. A flag sergeant and a private of infantry will keep guard over the premises during the stay of the company.

BRIDGE CONTRACTS

It was disclosed by Commissioner Chandler at the last meeting of the Levy Court that the Seventh street bridge in the city of Wilmington was not being constructed according to contract. The advertisement for this bridge, which is being built under a contract made by the old Levy Court in the fall of 1900, stated that the bridge was to be forty feet wide and to have approaches on each end, in other words the builder was to furnish a complete bridge ready for actual service. The fortunate bidder was Mr. Patrick Fahey. We use the word fortunate advisedly, because it seems that the bridge which Mr. Fahey has placed in position at Seventh street is only twenty-four feet wide and that he does not intend to build the approaches, and he will be fortunate indeed if he can get away with it. The original plans and specifications, which were signed by Mr. Fahey and the old Levy Court, have disappeared or been stolen. From the remarks made by Mr. Chandler last Tuesday, we infer that he, (Mr. Chandler,) either has in his possession or knows where to find a copy of these plans and specifications. The absured part, if not the criminal part, of this matter, is that the county has been paying a "Superintendent of Construction" since last January $5.00 per day to see that the bridge was built according to the specifications.

This is a sample of the way county work was done under the old Levy Court and is being continued by the present "Combine." Another illustration was furnished last week at the two bridges in Red Lion Hundred which were examined by the Levy Court with the view of discontinuing one of them. One of these bridges had been washed very badly and the entire construction was exposed to examination. The specifications called for a piling foundation on which to build the stone work. This piling was found to be a few "stakes" not exceeding four feet in length and to drive which a fair sized hand sledge was amply sufficient. The result is that the heavy rains since July have washed the dirt from around the piles and the whole structure tumbled down. But in order to allow of "addition, division, and silence," the work must be done in a slighting manner.

THE SCHLEY COURT OF INQUIRY

After daily sessions for the past month the Court of Inquiry asked for by Admiral Schley does not appear to have brought out any new evidence, nor to have brought the matter any nearer a solution. The only thing developed is the fact that Admiral Schley was kept in the dark as to what the other officers were doing. Whether this was done purposely or not has not yet appeared, but all the officers so far placed on the stand have admitted under the cross-examination of Mr. Rayner that information of various kinds was withheld from the commander of the Flying Squadron. Next week will probably see some of Admiral Schley's witnesses on the stand and some interesting disclosures may be made.

"THE attempt of the Maryland Democrats to make the race question the leading issue in the campaign in that State should fail. It is only a mask behind which Gorman and his corrupt ring are seeking to gain power, and there ought to be no possibility of the intelligent voters being misled by it. It would be indicrous were it not so brazen to hear the Democrats assert that the elimination of the colored vote is necessary to the safety and prosperity of the State. It was with the aid of the colored vote that the Gorman ring, in its day the most corrupt and debauched political combination in the United States, was overthrown and its head thrust from the Senate. That is the grievance Gorman and his friends have against the colored vote. In 1899 the Democrats flattered the colored voters and made promises of what they would do if they elected their candidate for Governor, and on the strength of these promises hundred of colored men voted the Democratic ticket. Then the Democrats turned around and passed a law the purpose of which is to disfranchise as many colored voters as possible. And now they are asserting that the safety of the State depends upon the entire elimination of the colored vote and the restoration of power of the old corrupt and debauched Gorman ring. The intelligent people of Maryland are not blind enough to be deceived by so palpable a trick."—Philadelphia Press.

PRESBYTERY ADJOURNS

After a successful and pleasant meeting the 63d annual session of the Presbytery of New Castle which was held in the Head of Christiana Church, Newark, adjourned Wednesday afternoon. There was a large attendance throughout the session and considerable routine business was transacted.

The Presbytery was called to order at 2.30 o'clock by the Rev. William M. Schall, the retiring moderator. The Rev. J. D. Wylie was elected stated clerk. The roll-call was answered by the following ministers: John D. Blake, Kent M. Buel, William M. Dawerty, Robert A. Elwood, Josiah Estlin, William L. Freund, Samuel L. Gayley, Joel S. Gilfillan, Robert H. Hooper, Samuel J. Irvine, William F. Lewis, William H. Logan, Edwin W. Long, H. F. Mason, John Mitchell, F. H. Moore, Joseph B. Worth, Samuel M. Perry, Thomas C. Patton, William J. Rowan, William M. Schall, William F. Stahl, W. W. Shaw, George H. Trull, James L. Vallindigham, John Willis, John Franklin and A. Beattie Wylie.

The Rev. Dr. Gilfillan of the Head of Christiana Church was elected moderator. Retiring Moderator Schall handed over the office to his successor in a few well chosen remarks. Dr. Gilfillan accepted the gavel and addressed the session.

J. N. McBride was examined for the ministry and admitted to the Presbytery. The Rev. T. A. McCurdy of Central Presbyterian Church spoke on the admission of candidates to the ministry.

The Rev. J. K. Walsh of the Baptist faith was extended the privilege to sit in the presbytery as a corresponding member. The report on home missions and accompanying resolutions were read by Dr. Logan.

At the evening session the retiring moderator, the Rev. W. M. Schall, preached an eloquent sermon.

At Wednesday morning's session an appropriate resolution was adopted on the death of President McKinley. Much of the time Wednesday was taken up with the general routine business. Reports on the home mission reduced all the appropriations to about 30 churches. This is done to better enable the smaller churches to pay salaries.

The next meeting place is to be decided on by the moderator and stated clerk. It will very likely be held in one of the Wilmington churches. The session of the Presbytery practically closed in the afternoon, but Wednesday night a popular meeting was held in the interest of the Christian Endeavor Society.

THE ASSASSIN TALKS WITH HIS FATHER

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 25.—"Woe unto the day that brought you in the world!" So said Paul Czolgosz to-day, addressing his son, Leon F. Czolgosz, the assassin of President McKinley.

The meeting of father and son took place in the cell of the assassin at the County Jail. The scenes incident to the reunion of the members of the Czolgosz family stirred the assassin into a demonstration of more emotion than he had previously shown since he came into the gaze of the world.

The father called at the jail accompanied by his daughter, Victoria, the rather pretty sister of the murderer, and by his son Waldeck. The old man upon whose family has come such shame was without the self control of his son. His face reflected the intense mental anguish he was undergoing and his great grief gained the sympathy who saw it.

The old man groaned in his anguish as he walked through the gloomy jail corridors.

Waldeck, the brother of the assassin, held himself well under control, but his grief was evident. The assassin alone was unmoved. The expression of indifference did not leave his weak face, and he received the reproaches of his father without a murmur of defense or an expression of regret.

NEW TIME TABLE

The schedule of trains on the Delaware division of the Pennsylvania railroad, in effect since May 27th last, was changed Tuesday. The D., M. & V. train leaving Harrington at 6.14 stops at Lewes, and the train formerly leaving Rehoboth at 6.33 A. M., leaves Lewes at the regular time, 6.45 A. M. The 10.38 train from Harrington for Rehoboth arrives at the latter place 10 minutes later than heretofore. The 2.51 P. M. train out of Rehoboth leaves 11 minutes earlier and arrives at Harrington on the old schedule. The schedule of the Baltimore and Delaware Bay branch is also on the new time table. There is no material change in the time card of the Maryland division in the new time card issued under date of September 10th, 1901. The times of departure and arrival of the trains are the same and the changes consist in the stoppage of trains at certain stations.

National Encampment, Union Veteran Legion, at Gettysburg, Pa.

DELAWARE FARMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Interesting statistics of agricultural products of Delaware are contained in a bulletin just issued by the Census Department of Washington.

The document states that the soil, especially in the northern part of the state, is a rich clay loam, suited to the growth of nearly all kinds of crops. Much of Sussex county is sandy, and better adapted to the culture of fruits, melons and sweet potatoes than to general farming.

New Castle county has the largest area of good land, and its farms are more highly improved than are those of the other two counties in the state. The average value per acre of the land in farms in New Castle county, exclusive of buildings, is $45.29; in Kent county, $19.60, and in Sussex county, $12.52. The reported gross incomes of the farms (the value of the products not fed to live stock) are, on an average, $10.89 per acre in New Castle $7.21 in Kent and $4.55 in Sussex.

Making His Chestnut Farm Pay

Mr. Thomas W. Eliason, of near Chestertown, is making interesting experiments in chestnut growing as a commercial crop. About six years ago he set out a grove of Japanese chestnuts. The trees have grown rapidly and produce nuts even larger than the Spanish chestnut, are more beautiful in color and richer in flavor. They ripen earlier than either the common chestnut or the Spanish, and Mr. Eliason has sold them at $6 per bushel. He is delighted with results so far.

President of Both Companies

Harry A. Richardson, of Dover, who has been president of the New Castle & Delaware City railway for some time, has also been made president of the Wilmington & New Castle Railway Co. The two corporations are owned practically by the same persons.

PENINSULA NOTES

Bishop Coleman has licensed J. Henning Neims, Dr. Edgar Worthington and Prof. William Richardson to be lay readers in the Episcopal Church.

It is estimated that the horse disease has taken off about 200 horses in the lower part of Somerset county. Besides these a number of farmers in and near Princess Anne have lost horses.

The old wooden platform surrounding the Cheswold station on the Delaware railroad has been removed and a solid smooth surface of concrete substituted, greatly improving the appearance of the station.

Miss Carrie Hunter, of Snow Hill, has been licensed as a pilot, being the second woman in Maryland to receive such license. The license granted authorizes her to navigate her father's pleasure steamer, the "Carrie."

It is reported that the agents who are trying to buy property upon which to erect a pier at Lewes, represent J. Pierpont Morgan and George Gould, and it is proposed to make Lewes a coal shipping station for sending coal to Europe.

A remarkable clock, just found in the old Cannon homestead in Georgetown, is 200 years old and has stood idle for 50 years. It is an eight-day brass piece which marks the day of the month, day of the week and changes of the moon.

George A. Townsend, ("Gath") the well-known author, was a visitor to Newark last Wednesday. He lived there about 45 years ago and his coming at this time was to visit the scenes of days before he had gained a name in the literary world. From there he went to Delaware City. He owns a farm near that place.

Preparations are being made by the temperance people and other prominent citizens of Lewes to make a vigorous fight before the coming courts at Georgetown against the re-licensing of the Hotel Virden with E. T. Vance as proprietor. Some of the complainants describe the hotel and the alley adjoining it as a nuisance and a centre for gross immorality and a spirited court fight is expected.

At a meeting of the citizens of Kent County held last week in Chestertown it was decided to erect a monument to General Philip Reed, the hero of "Caulk's" Field. He was commissioned lieutenant in the Third Regiment of the Maryland line on October 13th, 1778, and served through the Revolution. He commanded the militia which repelled the British at Caulk's Field, near the Cecil County line, and was made brigadier general. He was pensioned in 1828 and died November 2d, 1829, at Huntington, in Kent County. He was United States Senator from Maryland from 1806 to 1807 and was re-elected the latter year. He also served in the Fifteenth and Seventeenth Congresses.

THE HOME GOLD CURE

An Ingenious Treatment by which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves

No Noxious Doses. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit

It is now generally known and understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by periodical or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "HOME GOLD CURE" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The faithful use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

WIVES CURE YOUR HUSBANDS!! CHILDREN CURE YOUR FATHERS!! This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly soluble and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of Drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by having the "CURE" administered by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe today that they discontinued drinking of their own free will. DO NOT WAIT. Do not be deluded by apparent and misleading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "HOME GOLD CURE" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effectual than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of One Dollar. Address EDWIN B. GILES & COMPANY, 2330 and 2332 Market Street, Philadelphia.

All correspondence stricly confidential.

Physicians Aroused

Many of the physicians in Wilmington fear there will be an epidemic of smallpox this winter unless stringent measures are taken to prevent the disease. Their fears are based on the fact that the disease is now raging in Philadelphia. Owing to the proximity of Philadelphia to Wilmington it is feared that it will be almost impossible to keep it from being carried there. It is said that the only way to combat the disease and keep it from spreading in case it is brought there is to clean up all the streets and alleys, cut the weeds and remove the filth that has been deposited on the vacant lots, and last but not least, insist that the people of the city become vaccinated.
